

Teach your children about money

Young Children: Building the foundation

Learning the basic concepts of good spending and saving habits is ideal for children beginning around age 5.

Shopping Sense

Take your child to the grocery store and ask them to hold your grocery list. Ask your child to help you choose the items on your list and teach them to stick to the list to stay in budget.

Caring for others

This is a good age to teach your child about giving. Have them choose food items from your pantry to donate. Have them select an item of theirs they no longer use to give to charity.

Compare Prices

Use items to show them the cost of different items and to compare prices to find the best value while shopping.

Savings

Teach your child about saving by giving them coins to save in their piggy bank so that they can use it to purchase small items or treats.

Wants and Needs

Discuss the difference between things that you would like to have, and the things that you need to live.

Your child's journey to success starts with you.
